

Legacy Five

When the Legendary Cathedral Quartet retired in December of 1999, Roger Bennett and Scott Fowler decided to continue the rich musical tradition of Southern Gospel Quartet singing. Legacy Five was organized and had their official debut in January 2000 in Atlanta, Georgia. Since that day, they have made a major mark on the Southern Gospel Music world. Immediately audiences responded overwhelmingly to their four-part harmony and their ability to effectively communicate the message of Christ. Since the quartet's formation, they have established and maintained a firm place at the top of Christian music.

Legacy Five has enjoyed more success in their short career than many groups experience in decades. In their first five years, The Singing News Magazine, Southern Gospel music's leading fan and trade publication, has nominated Legacy Five for some 45 Singing News fan awards. Year after year they are recognized as one of Gospel music's favorite. Favorite Quartet, Favorite Lead Singer, Favorite Baritone, Favorite Tenor, Favorite Bass, Favorite Pianist, Favorite Male Singer, Favorite Video, Favorite Album, Song of the Year and Horizon Group of the Year. The Southern Gospel Music Association honored Legacy Five with Recording of the year and they have had 2 Dove Award nominations. They have 9 recordings including one with the prestigious London Philharmonic Orchestra. In September, 2004, the readers of the Singing News Magazine gave Legacy Five awards including Favorite Male Quartet. Legacy Five was the most awarded quartet at the National Quartet Convention in 2004.

Legacy Five has been featured on numerous video tapings of the Gaither and friends Homecoming Video series, which has sold multiple millions of copies worldwide. They have also appeared on In Touch, with Dr. Charles Stanley, as well as In Touch Ministries' sponsored cruises. Viewers across America have seen Legacy Five on TNN, TBN, Sky Angel, INSP, GMT, The Odyssey Network and a host of local channels.

The rich four part harmony that Legacy Five has become noted for are the result of a masterful weaving together of five unique and versatile talents. Glenn Dustin sings the bass, Scott Howard sings the baritone, Scott Fowler sings the Lead, Frank Seamans sings the tenor, while Roger Bennett plays the piano, writes and arranges much of the groups music as well as acts as the group MC.

Some 175 times a year, Legacy Five presents Gospel music in a way that has endeared them to audiences all across the United States and Canada. Their unique style has gained them the respect of fans and industry alike. However, it is not man's approval that they seek. "Our goal is to present our music in such a way that all those who hear it will be drawn to the life changing message of the music," explains co-founder Scott Fowler. Roger Bennett goes on to state, "you are looking at five guys who are doing what we believe God wants us to do with our lives. I have been doing this for 25 years now and Scott has been doing this for 16 years. If we did not feel like we were doing something eternal, making a real difference in people's lives, we would not do it."
